

Your Employee's Financial Wellness Matters

Your Employees Will Thrive With 1st Ed Credit Union

Employees deserve to have access to resources that account for their entire wellbeing—physical, mental, and financial. By offering these services for free adds significant value to their employment.

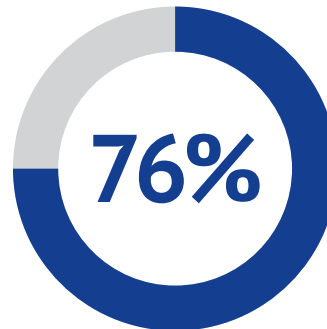

1st Ed Credit Union prides itself on putting the community first. We believe in a “people helping people” philosophy, which is why we partner with local organizations to give the gift of a credit union membership. By providing your employees the option to join our credit union, you’re giving them access to a future full of financial wellness that gives you a happier and healthier employee. That’s a win, win!
